RCMP Inspector Coswell is back in The Extra Cadaver Murder. A university professor's body is discovered in spectacular fashion—on a slab alongside shrouded medical cadavers prepared for a first year anatomy class. As he and his new partner, Corporal Bostock, delve into the victim's affairs, the list of suspects grows: failed students, a jealous colleague, an alluring ex-wife, and even a criminal cartel.

"Roy Innes's offbeat humour, clever characterization, and crisp plotting make for non-stop reading."
